

Previous Story

Debenhams new sport range XPG with Jenni Falconer

Top Alfresco Breaks

From Lizzie Pyle on August 22, 2011

Like

Are you already mourning the end of your summer holiday? Well why not give yourself something to look forward to and plan an Autumn break. Forget the beaches in Crete or Spain and look a little closer to home with these amazing British breaks. There is something for everyone; whether you are the outdoorsy type or simply want time to relax and enjoy the finer things in life.

The Lugger

Steal away from the crowded seaside hot spots and discover the sleepy little fishing village of Portloe.

The Lugger hotel steals one of Cornwall's most idyllic spots – right on the water's edge, surrounded by fishing boats, parlour pots and seagulls squawking overhead. It's no surprise that The Lugger Restaurant specializes in the freshest caught fish, crab and lobster – delivered straight to the kitchen by the local fisherman that sail daily from Portloe.

The Lugger

Throughout August & September, an evening dinner with bottle of wine is free for guests booking a 2 night stay! Available mid-week (Sun – Thurs) throughout August & September, costing £330 for two people for 2 nights on a b & b basis.

If you are feeling a little adventurous, why not learn some new skills and join Portloe's local fisherman as he sails the waters of the Roseland Peninsular, pulling up parlour pots, checking for crab and lobster along the way. Then it's onto the rods for some sea bass and mackerel, before heading back to harbour armed with a fresh and slippery catch. Then it is back in The Lugger kitchen, where you will be joined by the Head Chef to learn how to prepare, cook and dress your very own-caught Lobster! Then enjoy it on the sunny terrace high above the sea with a chilled bottle of Muscadet.

Costing £440 per couple, for 2 nights' accommodation including breakfast, evening dinner in the Restaurant, the fishing experience, preparation with chef and lobster meal served with a bottle of Muscadet.

Offers are subject to availability. Book on: 01872 501322; www.luggerhotel.com